

What You Need To Know

Brophy acknowledges the traditional owners of the lands we meet and work on today, in particular the Gunditjmara people of the Maar Nation.

We acknowledge all First Nation peoples as the traditional custodians of the continent, whose cultures are among the oldest living cultures in human history. We recognise their continued connection to the land and waters of this place, and acknowledge that sovereignty has never been ceded.

We pay respect to all Elders past, present and emerging and extend our recognition to any of their descendants with us today. Always was and always will be Aboriginal land.

About Brophy

Our Purpose

We want to build advantage in our community, create meaningful connections and encourage the skills, talents and dreams that exist in every person for them to create the life they want.

We actively value and promote diversity in our community and affirms our commitment to always be inclusive and respectful to all, regardless of gender, age, race, sex, sexual orientation, religion, level of ability, cultural or language background.

We welcome people who are LGBTQIA+ (lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, gender diverse, intersex, queer, plus other sexual minority identities).

Our Vision

People are meaningfully connected to create the life they want. We achieve this together through innovation and relationships, creating new horizons towards an advantaged community.

Our Mission

To provide community based services that promote a just society and improve the life circumstances for people who are vulnerable and disadvantaged, especially those who are experiencing homelessness, family violence, marginalisation or disconnectedness.

Our Profile

Brophy is a not-for-profit organisation, with a community-based Board of Directors. Our service provides a wide range of family, youth and children services across Southwest Victoria. We are a multi – site organisation with office locations in Warrnambool, Portland and Hamilton.

Brophy values the safety of all children and young people and has zero tolerance for any form of child abuse or harm. We listen to and ensure the participation and empowerment of all children and young people.

Our Values

Working with You

Planning your care

Brophy encourages you to be actively engaged in planning your care.

We will work with you to develop goals and plans suitable to your needs and wishes.

We encourage your family, trusted friends, carers and advocates to be involved in planning your care, if you wish this to occur.

We will review your plan regularly with you and give you a copy of your plan.

Consumer Participation

What is it?

Involving you in the way we do things at Brophy to make a better service for you.

Getting your ideas on how we can do things better and your experience of the service at Brophy.

Participating in activities, special functions and events.

Why have it?

To make sure we are meeting your needs and the needs of others.

We want to know what you think about Brophy, what is working and what is not, so we can make improvements.

You are important to the service and we would like you to become involved.

How can you participate?

Feedback Surveys – where we ask you for your ideas and your experience of our services.

Focus Groups – we ask for your ideas on a specific topic or issue in a group setting.

Media – we acknowledge and celebrate your involvement and seek your contributions through a range of media including newsletters, social media and websites.

Volunteering – We provide opportunities to be involved across a number of programs.

Advisory Groups – we welcome program-based consumer groups that meet regularly to contribute ideas and feedback to improve services.

All feedback obtained is confidential.

Taking part in consumer participation activities

It is expected that participants show commitment, punctuality, respect and confidentiality.

The staff at Brophy will in turn demonstrate punctuality and respect. You will be provided with a safe and confidential environment.

Brophy will acknowledge your involvement in consumer participation.

Your involvement in consumer activities may be supported with practical assistance including child care and transport.

Brophy values your participation in its consumer participation activities. Ask your worker if you want to know more about it.

Rights and Responsibilities

FOR YOU AS A SERVICE USER AND US AS A SERVICE PROVIDER

Your rights as a service user

Personal information

WHAT HAPPENS TO INFORMATION COLLECTED ABOUT ME?

When you become a client of Brophy a client file is created. It includes your name, address, contact details and relevant information about your life.

Every time you attend, or have contact with us, new information is added to your client file.

This allows all workers involved with your care to access your information easily and quickly when it is needed.

Your client file is stored securely and we will keep your file for a minimum of seven years after your last visit.

The record will then be disposed of securely, as required by law.

Why is this information necessary?

Initially, we need to collect and keep this information to provide you with an appropriate service.

Your client file can help us to quickly identify which course of action is likely to be effective for you.

It will also lessen the need to collect the same information repeatedly.

Some information or data may also be used for research and planning, to help us provide better outcomes and improve service delivery. In this case, any identifying information, such as your name and contact details, will be removed before the information is used.

What rights do I have to access my information?

You can ask to see any information held on your client file. This may include viewing the information, getting a summary or in some cases a fuller copy of your record, or having information explained to you if you wish. Some limits may apply where particular circumstances prevent us from releasing information.

If any limits apply to your record, this will be explained to you.

You also have the right to correct any information in your client file that you believe is incorrect, incomplete, out of date or misleading.

How will my information remain confidential?

We have strict policies about who can see and use your personal client information. Your privacy is also protected by law. All our staff members must treat your information confidentially.

Generally, we only share personal information about you with people who are directly involved in your ongoing care, for the purpose of a particular care service.

If we need to share your information for this purpose or any other purpose we will ask for your written or verbal consent before doing so (unless otherwise required by law).

What if I am unable to give consent?

In some cases, people may not be able to give consent because they are legally unable to make a decision about the release of their information. For example, young people (children), people with a severe physical or mental illness or major injury, or other impairment.

In such cases, a decision will be sought from the person's authorised representative. People who can act as authorised representatives in these circumstances are specified by law. Your worker can give you more detail about this.

Who may have access to information about me?

We may recommend that other services outside this agency become involved in your care. In that case, you will be asked to give consent for us to disclose any necessary information from your client file to other services, to help them assess your needs and provide you with relevant care.

Sharing information in this way helps us to provide you with effective services, and lessens the need for you to repeat your personal information to each new service provider.

You have the right to refuse or withdraw consent if you wish. If you have any concerns or questions about the sharing of information, please speak to one of our staff.

When can information be disclosed to other people without my consent?

There are very few situations when your information may be shared without your consent. For example, in an emergency situation, we would have to release medical information about you to aid emergency treatment if we are unable to contact your next of kin/ guardian or carer.

Also in certain circumstances, Brophy may be required by law to release personal information about you.

We also may be required to provide information about the service we are providing to you to our funders as part of their auditing and accreditation systems to ensure we are complying with legislation and standards.

Examples include:

- Anything affecting child safety and wellbeing.
- Providing information to a court when required in relation to legal proceedings.
- Providing personal records to a law enforcement agency (eg. Police) in response to a search warrant.

- If staff believe you are at risk of harming yourself or being harmed by someone or harming someone else.

Who do I contact for more information?

Advocacy

KNOWING YOUR RIGHTS

As a service user of Brophy you have the right to involve an advocate of your choice to represent you at any time.

An advocate is someone you choose to speak on your behalf and express your views or provide you with independent support or be your witness or your record keeper.

Who can be an advocate?

An advocate can be a trusted friend or family member, or it can be an agency whose role is to advise people about their rights and responsibilities when receiving services, and to act on your behalf with other service providers.

Agencies like this are known as 'Advocacy' agencies and people who act on their behalf are known as 'Advocates'.

Brophy respects the rights of all consumers to appoint an advocate of their choice, or to use the services of professional advocacy services.

Our staff will encourage the use of a consumer advocate as required.

What is the role of an advocate?

The role of an advocate will be discussed with you when you first access our services.

However, you may engage an advocate at any stage while you are receiving services.

You will need to give your consent for an advocate to access information on your behalf.

Complaints and Feedback

DO YOU WISH TO COMPLAIN OR APPEAL A DECISION WE HAVE MADE?

Using an Interpreter

If required, Brophy staff will assist you to access an interpreter, free of charge, to assist with your complaint.

How do I complain or give feedback?

Feedback forms and boxes are located in our reception areas. If you need assistance to understand the process or fill out the form please ask a Brophy worker.

You can also complain anonymously which means that you do not have to give your name. If you choose to do this, it will not be possible to give you feedback on the result of your complaint. Even if you do not provide your name, we will still action your feedback.

Who should I see or speak to?

If you would prefer to speak to someone in person, you can speak to your Brophy worker, another Brophy worker that you are comfortable to talk with, the Line Manager, Executive Manager or the CEO of Brophy Family & Youth Services.

You can also leave feedback via our website at <https://brophy.org.au/about-us/how-we-work/feedback/>

Will they take me seriously?

Every complaint/appeal or feedback is taken seriously as we are keen for information that contributes to improving our service.

Will I get into trouble for complaining?

Brophy sees complaints and appeals as important in safeguarding service user's basic rights and at the same time improving our service delivery. Therefore we welcome service users telling us their experience of our service and working with our staff and volunteers.

How long will it take?

The time it will take to resolve your complaint depends on the type and seriousness of the issue raised, but all efforts will be made to deal with the problem within 30 days.

Appeals of decisions already made will be considered within one week of the appeal being lodged and a final decision within two weeks.
